BANKS HUDSON.

The Garrard Circuit Court convenes
Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Frisbie are both quite sick of grip.

Master Banks Hudson, Jr., has been sick but is much improved.

Little Lucile Ballou, daughter of Mrs H. M. Ballou is reported very low.

Hon. L. L. Walker has moved into his new law office over J. W. Smith's Clothing store.

Rev. C. C. Brown will begin a protracted meeting at the Presbyterian church in the near future.

There will be no services at the Presbyterian church Sunday. Rev. C.
C. Brown will preach in Junction City.

Prof. S. H. Nickell was called to his home in Candler City, Kentucky, on account of the serious illness of his mother.

Look out for mad dogs, for several have been killed in town the past week. It wouldn't be a bad idea to kill off a few worthless dogs every week.

Mrs Margaret Dunn of this city is critically ill at the home of her son in Chattanooga, her daughter, Mrs W.
B. Mason was called to her bedside on Monday.

Miss Bella Arnold has returned from Cincinnati, Louisville and Indianapolis where she purchased a fine line of the latest style millinery goods.
She will announce in a short time the date of her Millinery Opening.

A telegram was received announcing the death of Mrs. I. R. Yantis of Flemingsburg. The deceased was 68 years of age and the wife of Dr.
Robert Yantis, formerly of this county. A husband and 5 children, two of whom are S. S. Yantis, United States Commissioner and Mrs. F. J. Fogg, of Lexington survive.

Early to bed, early to rise, makes men healthy, wealthy and wise. Thus runs the old saw, and there's more in it, probably, than many of us are willing to admit. Rushing things is all right if not carried too far. But some people in their mad desire to bag everything in sight, ovedo it. To this class belongs the old lady who went to the stairway and yelled upstairs to a grown up daughter: "Sally! Sally!
Get up! Get up! Here it is four o'clock Monday morning, tomorrow's Tuesday next day's Wednesday half the week's gone and nothing done yet."

When Mr. C. A. Arnold made his settlement as sheriff with the Fiscal Court and fled it with the County Clerk last Saturday his official relation with the people was severed having been in the sheriff's office four years as deputy and four years as sheriff. No people were ever served by a more polite and accommodating officer than Mr. Arnold. He has been vigilant in collecting the county and state revenue and prompt in paying it over to the proper authorities. At all times, he has regarded his relation with the public as a matter of business, and retires having made a financial success of official life and the well earned reputation as a most excellent official, and also, what Clayton Arnold most appreciates, the good will and friendship of all.

This has been a season on unusual mortality among the people of our city and county. The grim reaper, death, has been busy among the old and young, leaving hearts and homes crushed and desolate. It is truly a time for reflection. We cannot fathom the cause of separation from our loved ones any more than we can understand the causes of separation in nature. We stand and gaze at two mountains side by side with a peaceful river flowing between, and we think of how in the far past some convulsion in nature rent them asunder and left the gap between. Oh, the gap in human lives! How it rends the heart and what a wall of anguish goes forth from the soul convulsed with sorrow when the separation comes.
But the kind Father falls in what would be a chasm deep and terrible with his love and care. It flows straight from His throne and give that peace which passeth all understanding.

Bratton.

Flonnie, the little six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs James A. Bratton of Point Leavell, who was badly burnt last week by her clothes catching fire from an open grate, died Tuesday and brief funeral services were held at the Lancaster cemetery Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Many of the relatives and friends of the sorrowing family were present and as they looked upon the sweet little body in its white casket, their hearts swelled in sympathy for the bereaved family.

Democratic Congressional Committee Meeting.

Hon. J. Norton Fitch, chairman of the Democratic Committee of the Eighth Congressional District has called the committee to meet in Nicholasville on March 3rd, for the purpose of fixing the time and manner of making a nomination for Congress. Hon.
James I. Hamilton is our Committee man and attended the meeting. At present there has been but one formal announcement for the honor, that of Hon. Harvey Helm our present Congressman.

Real Estate Sale.

Miss Eliza Smith has just sold to County assessor, W. S. Carrier, the residence on Danville street known as the Judge Burnside property. We hope this will make a permanent resident of Mr. Carrier, who is a citizen of the very highest type.

Bond Issue Not Needed.

It is announced that there will be no bond issue authorized by the present general assembly. That is the correct thing. Cut off some of the useless appropriations, abolish some of the useless offices and create no more of them and bond issues will not be necessary.—
Owensboro Inquirer.

Institute at Lancaster.

The County Institute of the Bible Schools of the Christian Church, conducted by R. M. Hopkins and W. E.
Frazier will be held at the Christian church the seventh and ninth.

Every officer and teacher of the Bible Schools are especially requested to attend. Carrie Arnold, County Secy.

Paper Sold.

The Winchester Democrat one of the oldest and best papers in Eastern Kentucky has been sold by Messrs.
Biehm and Donovan to Tim Needham of Wiamstown, and Charles E. Nelson, of the Government printing office, at Washington City, who takes charge March 1st. We trust the new owners will keep up the paper to its present good standing.

Blind Tigers Raided.

The officers of Danville, headed by Chief of Police, Logan Wood, raided the blind tigers in that town last week and captured 28, all of whom landed in the work house. Four detectives, three white and one negro have been working on the cases for some time.

Mr. Wood is to be congratulated for this good work and we hope that from now on Danville shall be as free from the Animals as is Lancaster.

Court Day.

A large crowd was in town Monday and business good.

Capt. Am Bourne reports plug horses sold from $30 to $80; mares from $60 to $125; aged work mules $150 to $200; one cow and calf $37.50; about one hundred cattle were reported sold at from 4 to 4c per lb; hogs from 9 to 9c per hundred. There were very few hogs and cattle on the market but there were a number of buyers not able to find what they wanted.

New Corporation.

Mr F. G. Hurt has purchased from Dr. B. F. Walter and Mr G. A. Walter an interest in their great Chill Cure Pill.

The new firm will incorporate under the name of The Walter Brothers and Hurt Medicine Co., with a capital stock of $25,000.00. Dr. B. F. Walter will be president of the corporation and Mr. F. G. Hurt will be secretary and treasurer.

Their place of business will be in Lancaster at the Furniture store of Mr Hurt and they will put on the market this remedy and several others.

They will have for sale a small amount of treasury stock. We wish them much success in their enterprise.

The Local Paper in the Home.

The local newspaper should be found in every home. No child will grow up ignorant who can be taught to appreciate the paper. It is the home paper. It is the stepping stone of intelligence in all those matters not to be learned in books. Give your children a foreign paper which contains not one word about any person, place or thing which they ever saw or perhaps ever heard of, and how can you expect them to be interested?
But let them have the home paper and read of persons whom they meet, and places with which they are familiar, and soon an interest is awakened which increases with every weekly arrival of the local paper. Thus a habit of reading is formed, and those children will read the papers all their lives and become intelligent men and women, a credit to their ancestors, strong in their knowledge of the world as it is today.

Brown.

Mrs. Zerelda J. Brown, 83 years of age died at her home on the Buckeye road on Saturday afternoon February 26th 1910. The funeral was conducted by Eld. F. M. Tindler at the Lancaster cemetery Monday Morning at eleven o'clock.

She is survived by a husband, Mr. A.
B. Brown, Sr., and six children, Miss Martha Ann Stevens, teacher at the D. and D. Institute, Danville; Mrs.
Judge Holman and Miss Allie Brown, of Louisville; Mrs. R. M. Arnold, of Mineral Wells, Texas; Mr. A. B.
Brown, Jr., and Mr. Geo. Brown both of this place, to whom much sympathy is extended. She was a true christian woman and loved by all who knew her.

"We will weep for the days that come
no more,
For the sunbeam gone from the heart and door;
For a missing step, for a nameless
grace,
For a mother's form, for a mother's face;
But not for the soul whose crown is won,
Whose infinite joy has only begun;
Not for the spirit enrobed in light, Crowned where the angels are tonight."

Mrs. Ada Kinnaird has returned from Louisville and Cincinnati where she purchased a fine line of the latest styles in millinery goods. Her trimmer, Miss Stella Alexander, of Louisville, is expected soon. Watch for the date of her opening which will be announced in this paper.

Insane.

James A. Stout, of Danville, Kentucky who had sworn vengeance on the women of Danville, was arrested Tuesday and tried and adjudged a lunatic.

"Jimmie" as he is commonly known wrote a letter to the police at Columbus, Ohio, and asked them to send 100 policemen and 500 mounted officers all bearing double barrel shot guns. He desired to take charge of the forces and shoot every woman in Danville until the street should flow with their blood.

Money on Hand.

Garrard county is able to pay her debts. When the retiring sheriff paid over all money from the county revenue to B. F. Hudson, county treasurer, the balance on hand, including the road and general fund, to the credit of the county, amounted in round numbers to $11,000.00. There is a small amount of outstanding indebtedness which will reduce this amount to some extent. But the financial condition of the county is excellent. So long as the fiscal affairs are in the hands of good business men as we have at present, you can always get your claim against the county when due. Won't reconstructing the turnpikes with our big Springfield-Kelley roller be a good way to invest a portion of this surplus?

Thompson.

Mr David Thompson, age sixty-five died of heart trouble on Friday morning, February 25th, 1910 at his home on the Crab Orchard pike, two miles from Lancaster.

Funeral services were conducted at the grave Saturday afternoon by Elder F. M. Tindler, interment in Lancaster cemetery.

He was survived by two sons, Robert of Crab Orchard and Booth of this county. Besides the two sons he leaves to mourn their loss many other relatives. The deceased was a very prominent man and by his straight forward manner won many friends.
He was a thorough business man and owned one of the best farms in Garrard County.

Louisville Auto Show.

Plans for the big Automobile Show which will be held in Louisville at the Armory, March 17th, 18th, and 19th, have developed so far that it is assured this will be the greatest exhibition of motor cars and appurtenances ever held South of the Ohio river or West of Chicago.

Reports from the Exhibit Committee state that every inch of space on the ground floor of the great Armory has been taken by automobile dealers, and over one hundred of the latest models in motor-propelled wagons, including both passenger and commercial vehicles will be displayed in the most attractive style. In the spacious balcony will be arranged rows of exhibits of sundries, accessories for automobiles, motor cycles, tires, etc.

One of the most interesting features of the Show will be a celebrate aeroplane, the identical one with which Curtiss has made his several record-breaking flights in different parts of the country. This great air craft will be suspended from the roof and will hang in the middle of the Armory, and an expert aviator of nets will be present to lecture on its operation and mechanical features.

Reduced rates on all railroads from points in Kentucky have been granted for the dates of the show.

School Notes.

Mr. Nickell was called away last Thursday to his old home on account of his mother's serious illness. We are glad that he could return to his work on Monday of this week. Miss Knapp West taught for him while he was away.

The usual semi-monthly meeting of the Teachers Reading Circle was held in the Library last Saturday. Interesting discussions were given on the subjects of Habit Formations and Memory Training.

The pupils of the grades second to eighth had exercises celebrating Longfellow's birthday on last Friday. The High School pupils will celebrate on Friday March 4th at 2:30, at the regular meeting of the High School Literary Society. Two weeks from this date the life of Andrew Jackson will be the principal theme of their meeting.

The eighth grade is making a collection of the likenesses of our government officials. They have begun with the county officers, of Garrard county, who will form group number one.
Next they expect to obtain pictures for groups representing the Executive, Legislative and Judicial departments of the State of Kentucky. After that they will make similar groups of the National government.

The School Board has about closed the deal for our athletic field, and our base ball club will be organized and begin practice soon. We ought to have a fair team this year. The tennis courts will also be in use from this time on.

We are authorized to announce Hon. Harvey Helm a candidate to succeed himself in Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Educational Issue April 8th.

In asking the confidence and support of our readers, we feel that in return the RECORD should endeavor to give that which will most benefit all. In doing that, however, we shall not expect all to agree with us in every plan presented to accomplish the desired ends. But whether or not our way may be yours, be assured we will urge nothing, that will not, in our best judgment, bring happiness and prosperity to the community at large. Prompted by this desire, only, we shall continue through the columns of this paper to advocate and present those questions, we think most worthy of your consideration, and will most effectively promote the general welfare.

There are many stations in which life must act, and it is many sided, which necessarily makes questions more or less important, according to the individual. But there is one question of common importance, and with assurance, we can say to the public, that of all, universal education is first. If there is any one remedy for all the ills of the state, it is universal education. When that is accomplished you may view the future with confidence. Intelligence will always be the master, in whatever avenue of life it is placed. Mind is the life, and human thought is the process, by which ends are achieved. From infancy to manhood is the spring-time for sowing. In that time, let knowledge be disseminated without stint and education be planted broadcast. To this end, on April 8th, next the RECORD will be an educational issue. Our best efforts will be used in making that issue of the paper interesting and instructive along modern educational lines, and we hope to inspire all with an unrelenting determination to make the schools of Garrard county, from the smallest sub-district to the high school, the very best possible.

It is interesting to note how history repeats itself, though frequently at long intervals. In 1830 the good roads movement began in this state, and within seven years it had paid out of the public treasury more than $3,000,000 which was supplemented by $12,000,000 from private subscription, in building roads. It was during this time that our Lexington pike was built. The country at large again seems to be possessed of a road mania, and the enthusiasm in this state for better roads will probably bring about a road building era that will far eclipse that of the thirties.

It is a truth of history, both modern and ancient, that every road building period has been accompanied with universal social activity and governmental vitality. The condition of the highways is the best indication of civilized motion and business prosperity. We are in need of no further argument for good roads. There is universal harmony in wishing for them. The only question for the public is—how may our roads be improved? The present legislature will enact the law giving the way to provide more money, for it takes a full treasury to build and maintain macadam roads. Those responsible to the public for making better the public highways are wisely preparing to meet the public demands. We do not refer alone to the turnpikes but all the public highways. Those living in the rural districts are as a whole the most independent, and stable classes of the body politic. Their interest must be considered. We must have such roads throughout the state as will enable them to get their produce to market without inconvenience. They must be able to send their children to the neighborhood school and then to high school. They must be provided with such highways as will permit them to conveniently get their families to church and to the county seat. The wonderfully improved means of locomotion in this age has almost eliminated the ordinary distance from the conveniences mentioned, provided the public highways are good and kept properly in repair. The modern country home, with little expense, can be provided with all the conveniences, such as heat, light, and water, as we have in the cities. When the land owners remain upon the farm they will produce much more wealth, raise a more thrifty and substantial family, who will be the future citizenship of the state, and it is greatly to the interest of the state to encourage the owner to be upon the farm. They will do this gladly when the public highways are right.

It looks now as though the necessary number of states will ratify the amendment to the federal constitution, so as to authorize Congress to enact the income tax. It has grown in public favor to such an extent that they demand its passage, and why not? It is true that such an amount should be exempt, as represents the fair earning capacity of the average energetic and well educated citizen, but where one income is beyond the average, it is due to some advantage that he has over his fellow man, either by class legislation or the discovery of the hidden treasures of the earth, and it is right that such a man should pay the expenses of the Government, that gives him the greater protection, by reason of his property.

The American people are resourceful and great, and while it has been said, that they will never cope with the millionaire question, yet we believe that it is on a fair road to settlement, when those who have been so greatly blessed, beyond the fortunes of their fellow-man, shall be called upon to share in proportion to his wealth, the burdens of taxation, in the passage of such laws, as the income tax, and inheritance tax. Gov. Willson has recommended a State Income tax to the Legislature, but it will hardly be passed, at this time, however the granting of the right to the National Government, in no way affects the right of the state to collect such a tax.

The people who were indicted by the federal grand jury for interfering with an interstate shipment of tobacco maintain that they are innocent and it is to be hoped that they will show it at the proper time, not only on their own account, but for the good name and order of the state.

If they are guilty, we have no doubt that they were led into it under the belief that public sentiment was with them, and that they could control the local grand jury, and escape indictment.

People in power often act under such assumptions, but we cannot afford to trust public sentiment except when we are in the right, for if we are wrong, we can never know from what source the point of attack, will come, for it always comes from the unexpected one, and the shield of truth alone can withstand the attack, from whatever source it may come.

The boom of Caleb Powers for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Eleventh District has been rudely shattered by the alleged discovery of the fact that he demanded and received $500 for making speeches in the last campaign. But why visit Caleb with condign punishment, when it is a well known fact that two of the most prominent Kentucky Republicans have demanded and received pay—one for political speeches and the other for a commencement address?—Kentucky State Journal.

The Woman With The Serpent's Tongue.

The following was written only recently by William Watson, an English poet. No production of modern literature has so engaged public attention as this poem. It is said that Mr. Watson had in mind Mrs. Asquith and Violet Asquith, wife and daughter of Premier Asquith of London England. This severe exhortation came by reason, of the misuse, according to the ideal of the poet, of the great influence in English public affairs had by the two ladies. This is the poem:—

She is not old, she is not young,
The Woman with the Serpent's Tongue,
The haggard cheek, the hungry eye,
The poisoned words that widely fly,
The famished face, the fevered hand—
Who slights the worthiest in the land, Sneers at the just, contemns the brave
And blackens goodness in its grave.

In truthful numbers be she sung,
The Woman with the Serpent's Tongue,
Concerning whom, Fame hints at things Told but in shrugs and whisperings:
Ambitious from her natal hour,
And scheming all her life for power;
With little left of seemly pride;
With venomous fangs she can not hide;
Who half makes love to you to-day,
To-morrow gives her guest away,
Burnt up within by that strange soul
She can not slake, or yet control:
Malignant-lipped, unkind, unweet;
Past all example in discreet;
Fierce, and always overstrung—
The Woman with the Serpent's Tongue.

To think that such she can mar Names that among the noblest are!
That hands like hers can touch the springs
That move who knows what men and things?

That on her will their fates have hung!
The Woman with the Serpent's Tongue.

HELM'S STRONG SPEECH.

Vigorous Opposes Pending Bill on Ocean Mail Subsidy.

Our Diplomacy Faulty.

Kentuckian Declares Ship Subsidies Will Not Bring Desired Results.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 24.—Vigorous opposing mail steamship subsidies, Representative Helm, of Kentucky, in a speech in the house today, declared that the United States government was being converted into a gigantic pawnbroker's shop for the purpose of extending trade. He insisted that subsidies had not built up the mail line interests of the United States.

"I do not subscribe to that course or policy that would convert this government into a gigantic pawnbroker's shop in order to acquire trade," declared Mr. Helm. "I do not think we are materially improving our trade relations with Central and South America by attempting to put men selected at Washington in control of the governments of certain of these countries. In my opinion it will require something more than subsidy to overcome the adverse feeling engendered by our present policy in that zone of the Western Hemisphere which should be our best market."

"I am apprehensive that the good effects of former Secretary Root's visit to the Central and South American republics, looking to closer and more cordial relationships with these governments, has been largely discounted by our more recent domineering policy there. I fear some blunders and mistakes have been made. That quarter of the globe is on the eve of great development, from which we are in position to reap some of the benefits, and I surely believe that the Root policy will yield us better returns than the coercive policy."

Tariff laws, Mr. Helm declared, had made the United States a dear market. "It is as unreasonable," he added, "for us to expect the foreigner to purchase in a protracted market, where the seller insists on his profits that arise by operation of law, as it is to expect the individual to do his shopping at the highest priced store in any given locality."

"The report of the Commissioner of Navigation shows that we have three subsidized lines on the Caribbean route and the full, complete and final answer to all arguments in support of subsidy as a trade producer, is that it with standing these subsidized lines, our trade in that sphere has decreased instead of increased."

Mr. Helm concluded his remarks by declaring his opposition to subsidy of any kind.

The applause that greeted Mr. Helm when he first arose evidenced the high esteem in which he is already held among the older members. The interest and applause accorded him throughout was evidence of the worth of his speech, which was about an hour in length. Mr. Helm has seldom talked, except to answer roll calls (he claims to have answered more than any other member who has been there less than three years) but when he does talk, he evidently studies and prepares what he has to say. This was even more evident in his speech of last Thursday than it was in his speech on the tariff at the extra session. His position on the Insular Affairs Committee has given him an opportunity to study the mail subsidy grab in all of its phases, and he has improved said opportunities.

Mr. Helm arrived home Saturday to attend the meeting of the district Congressional committee at Nicholasville on Thursday. He says he has confidence in the wisdom of the committee and is only asking them to give him a primary in which all the democratic voters can have a say, and which will be fair to as many or as few as want to run against him for the nomination.—Stanford Interior Journal.

Saved A Soldier's Life.

Facing death from shot and shell in the civil war was more agreeable to J. A. Stone, of Kemp, Tex., than facing it from what doctors said was consumption. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough, that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. I now weigh 178 pounds." You know the man of kingly air?
You run across him everywhere.
He seems to think his hat a crown;
He talks as though he handed down
Most all the wisdom that the seers Have gathered in a thousand years.
His dignity is most sublime;
To joke about him is a crime, and When you meet him it is wise to lift Your hat and close your eyes; and it would

P ease him if you'd just lie down
And grovel in the dust.
That is the wiser course, I say; but I'm a feeble minded jay, and when I meet the swelled up man, I jolly him the best I can.

I would to him the fact recall That he's but Mortal after all.
He's naught but bones and legs and trunk
And lungs and lights and kindred junk;

He breathes the same old germ air
That's breathed by hobos everywhere.
And when he dies, as die he must,
He'll make as cheap a grade of dust
As any Richard Roe in town:
The monument that holds him down
May tell his glories for a while,
But folks will read it with a smile,
and say;

"What dead one must have thought That he Was Johnny on the spot, when he was on this Earthy shore.
I never heard of him before."

Obituary

Affectionately inscribed to the memory of little Marion Blythe Sanders, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sanders, of Richmond, Ky. On February 22nd, the blue eyes of Marion Blythe Sanders closed in their eternal sleep to be reopened in a land of endless day. After only four days illness of pneumonia, following an attack of measles, the brief life thread of life was broken and the precious soul fled into eternity. Blythe was an unusually handsome and precocious child and even in his last illness he knew all of the loved ones as they were gathered around his bedside in such anxious solicitude and called their names clearly and distinctly.

"Then weep not so sorely, Oh, comfortless ones, Nor grieve at the lot the Master has done."

Your precious child was a rare treasure only given to your keeping for three brief, but such happy years.

"Draw the blind and let sunshine in,
Know the crop upon the field,
Softly comes the mournful whisper
"That your baby is no more."

Lay away the baby playthings, Fold the baby robes with care;
Pattering feet are stilled forever.
"He has climbed the golden stair."

Face so sunny, eyes all laughing,
And the doting curly head;
How you'll miss it from its pillow
On the little iron bed.

But a trace to all remaining,
Come this from the hand of God!
And your hearts though sore with weeping Still will bless the chastening God."

The annual meeting of the Kentucky State Berkshire Breeders Association was held at the Leland Hotel, Lexington, Ky., February 18. A number of breeders attended and all were enthusiastic over the outlook for the Berkshire interests for the coming year. All breeders reported a splendid demand for their surplus stock. The reports of the president, secretary and treasurer were heard, and matters of interest to the Berkshire breed were discussed. Several new members were received and enrolled. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. Lewis Lettler, president, Harrods Creek; W. R. Whitlow, vice president, Oakland; Ben W. Hall, secretary and treasurer, Mt. Sterling; Executive Committee, F. M. McKee, Versailles, and A. P. Shropshire, Centerville.

Sheep.

Sheep once fattened and then allowed to become poor never do well. Cut out the flock to a profitable basis, even if it requires the selling of half the flock.

In commencing to feed grain to sheep let the start be made on a small scale and be gradually increased. So far as can be done, every lamb dropped should be an improvement on the average standard of the flock.

Better have several small flocks than one large one, for as a rule the smaller the flock the better the animals will do.

Sheep in good condition now are easily kept in condition and can be quickly and easily finished for market at any time.

Rain freezing in the wool causes suffering to the sheep, and also deteriorates the quality of the fleece, making the fibre harsh and brittle.

The growth of wool made during a season depends very much upon the condition of the sheep and the feed and care given them.

The condition of the mother determines the condition of the lamb when dropped, whether it is vigorous and ready to start right away and make a rapid growth or otherwise.

Sheep are not naturally so well adapted to rough usage and to picking their living as cattle; and they must therefore receive better care and a little better feed.

The Republican Row.

The Democrats of the country can sit steady in the boat and watch the real, sure enough scrap that is on in the ranks of the Republicans. The breach between the "Regulars" and the "Insurgents" has been growing wider since Congress met. The Taft-Pinchot-Ballinger affair, and the investigation resulting from it, have added fuel to the flames. All in all it is a good sized row, and exceedingly entertaining, largely because it is something that happens so seldom in the Republican party. Accustomed to being ruled by bosses for the last two or three decades it took a great deal of overt provocation to the drive any considerable portion of the party into open revolt.

It would have been better for the Democracy of the country in the coming elections had the entire bunch continued to eat out of Cannon's hand as they had done so long, for the tremendous anti-Cannon sentiment in the country, under those circumstances, would have swept every close district into the Democratic column. And the districts, especially in the West and Middle West, would not have needed to be so very close for this to have happened. But as the Insurgents have refused to be either misled or bluffed the Democrats are looking on with pleasure at the ever widening breach.

If the Insurgents ever contemplated any surrender the matter has now gone too far. When they are no longer summoned to the floor by the Republican "whip" when votes are needed, and when they are notified from the White House that they are to be practically stripped of their patronage, there is nothing left for them to do but burn their bridges behind them. And this the majority of them have already done.

Commenting upon the Administration's policy toward these Insurgents Worlds Word recently said:

"Instead of stamping out the fire of insurrection, however, this treatment seems to have stirred it to greater fury, and every day sees additions to the number of Republicans who avow that they will never vote for the Speaker again. The rebels proclaim that they are loyal to Taft and hostile only to Cannon and Aldrich, but their words of loyalty are coldly received by the President's friends, who declare that the Insurgents are bending every effort to ruin the Taft Administration and force the nomination of Roosevelt in 1912. Pinchot is regarded as a ring leader in this scheme, and his critics believe that he invited dismissal to gain a martyr's crown and discredit the powers that be. The Insurgents, on the other hand, believe Pinchot was driven to his virtual defiance of Taft and subsequent dismissal by the President's plain sympathy with the Ballinger and Cannon forces. Cannon is urged to retire by the Boston Transcript (Rep.), which goes so far as to outline a graceful letter of resignation which it thinks would be acceptable. Instead of taking this suggestion in a friendly spirit, however, the Speaker violently objects to immolating himself on the altar of party harmony. 'I will say positively,' he declares, 'that I will not retire from Congress until my constituents fail to give me a majority,' and he adds feelingly: 'My worst enemies have never accused me of cowardice, but if I retired under fire both my friends and my enemies would be justified in not only calling me a coward, but a poltroon.' Thus the acrimony grows more bitter, and the rift widens." Kentucky State Journal.

Indestructible!

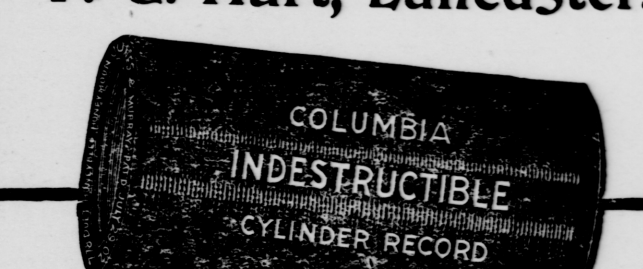

The clear, full, brilliant tone of Columbia Indestructible Cylinder Records is the best reason for their growing popularity.

But it's a fine thing to know they can't break, no matter how careless you may be, and that they will never wear out, no matter how many times you play them.

35 cents! Call for a catalog!

A splendid repertoire to choose from—and we are adding to it right along.

F. G. Hurt, Lancaster.

IT'S QUALITY THAT COUNTS

When buying that fence for your farm don't be misled into getting a poor fence because it costs a little less per rod. You'll be sick of your bargain by the end of the first season. You'll wish you had considered quality instead of price.

PEERLESS WOVEN WIRE FENCE

is built to stand many seasons of hard usage. Made of hard steel galvanized wire that will not rust out and break.

The cross-hairs are all of one piece, and give upright stability to the fence. The knot is so accurate it is not to injure any of the wires, can not slip, and yet permits the fence to be erected on a slope and on a corner.

The wires are all the same length—uniform tension throughout and there are no loose or sagging sections in the fence.

Make your dealer furnish Peerless—accept no substitute.
